DALLAS, Jan. 25, 2016 – DIMONT, the largest provider of specialty insurance and loan administration services to the residential and commercial mortgage industries, today announced that the company accomplished several key milestones throughout 2015.

Notable highlights include:

- Achieved a 70 percent increase in FHA hazard claims processing due to a growing demand for assistance in this area among mortgage lenders;

- Strengthened the executive leadership team with the addition of technology veteran Denis Brosnan as president and chief executive officer, finance executive Albert Strausser and compliance expert Dick Volentine;

- Now offers minimum flood insurance requirements (MFIR) analysis services to mortgage servicers, banks, credit unions and investors in order to leverage DIMONT's expertise in hazard insurance-related issues to assist clients in determining the minimum level of

- flood insurance coverage needed on properties in light of recent expansion of the allowable limits under the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP);
- Completed the Statement of Standards for Attestation Engagements (SSAE 16/SOC 1 Type II certification). This tests the effectiveness of hazard insurance claims services systems and processes, which allows DIMONT to continuously meet or exceed various control objectives such as control environment, risk assessment, monitoring, computer operations, data center operations, access/security, systems development and systems maintenance, as well as the entire claims process.
